WHY THESE CHARACTERS AND THIS DATE

The Gold Ranger fills the Ant-Man role.

- The Ant-Man structure is the Gold Ranger's canon story. Hank Pym passes his power to Scott Lang. Here, Trey of Triforia, the original Gold Ranger, is split into three by an attack and can't hold his power, so he passes it to a returning hero, Jason Lee Scott.
- Jason comes home. The MGU's first Ranger returns from the Peace Conference, as in canon, closing the phase that began without him.
- The date: Presidents' Day weekend, the slot Fox's own Deadpool broke records in. It opens four weeks after Power Rangers: Zeo and before the February 28 cutoff. Under the 2020 Release Strategy, if closures cut its theatrical run short in mid-March, it goes to digital and Disney+ early, following the Onward precedent.

01 • TITLE: REAL AND DECOY

Gold Ranger, shot as Fool's Gold

- Real title: Gold Ranger.
- Decoy title: Fool's Gold. It sounds like a caper comedy, which suits the Ant-Man role, and it hides the Gold Ranger.

02 • WHOSE FILM IT IS

Trey and Jason

- Trey of Triforia, the alien lord who first wore the gold, and Jason, who gets it. The Zeo Rangers are all at full strength.

03 • WHEN AND WHERE IT'S SET

MGU Year Four: spring 2016

- Where: Angel Grove, the Power Chamber, the Machine Empire's ships, and Triforia.

04 • WHAT IT'S ABOUT

The mystery in gold

- A mysterious Gold Ranger appears and fights the Machine Empire at the Zeo Rangers' side. No one knows who he is, as in canon.
- He's Trey of Triforia, and when he's hit and split into three beings, he can no longer hold the Gold power. He needs someone worthy to carry it while he heals.
- Jason Lee Scott comes home from the Peace Conference just in time. The man who launched the MGU accepts the Golden Power Staff and becomes the Gold Ranger, with Pyramidas behind him.
- Climax: Jason and the Zeo Rangers against King Mondo's war machine. The original Red fights beside the team he left.
- Ending: Jason is home and a Ranger again. But the Gold power was never made for a human, and the first signs of strain begin to show.

05 • VILLAIN / ANTAGONIST

The Machine Empire

- King Mondo and the Machine Empire, at full canon power, are hunting the Gold Ranger's power.

06 • POST-CREDITS SCENES

Two scenes

- Mid-credits: "The Cost." Alone, Jason powers down and collapses. Billy's scan says the Gold power is burning through him. This sets up its canon payoff in Phase 3, when Jason has to give the power back to Trey.
- End-credits: "The Reunion." At the Youth Center, Jason walks in and Tommy turns around. No words, just a hug.

07 • SETTING UP THE BIG BAD

Power that drains

- The Gold power draining its human carrier repeats the draining theme that runs through the saga, from Tommy's candle to Zedd's drain, and points to what Dark Specter will do to Zordon in the finale.
- Trey reveals that Triforia has watched the Machine Empire move "under a greater shadow," which ties Mondo to the Grand Monarch.

08 • ITS OWN WORLD-BUILDING

The Gold Ranger's world

- Triforia and Trey's three-in-one nature, the Golden Power Staff, Pyramidas, and the Gold Ranger mantle.

The rules every later film builds on

- Jason is back in the MGU. Its first hero is once again a Ranger.
- Grid powers from other worlds can be carried by humans, at a cost.
- Triforia joins the galactic map that Phase 3 expands.

10 • ITS ROLE IN PHASE 2

How it closes Phase 2

- Phase 2 opened without Jason and closes with his return. It hands Phase 3 a full Zeo team, a Gold Ranger whose time is running out, and a named Big Bad who is already moving the pieces for his war.

This is a fictional, alternate-history development document created for creative purposes. Characters and events follow the original Power Rangers television series (Mighty Morphin through Zeo).
