

The Premier Team

The Mighty Morphin Power Rangers lead the Morphin Grid Universe, starting with the original five that Zordon recruited.

THE TEAM

Mighty Morphin Power Rangers

Zordon told Alpha 5 to recruit “teenagers with attitude.” The MGU's first team is the one they found.

- They're where it all started. MMPR premiered on August 28, 1993, and the MGU launches on its 20th anniversary. The first team on TV should be the first team on screen.
- Zordon's first team opens Zordon's saga. Every later team in The Zordon Saga gets its powers through Zordon and the Command Center, so this team is where that line begins.
- The source is all there. Rita Repulsa, Lord Zedd, the Power Coins, the Dinozords, the Megazord and Green with Evil are the most recognizable material the franchise has.

THE ORIGINAL ROSTER

The original five, exactly as the show had them

Ranger	Power Coin / Zord	Weapon	Canon profile
 Jason Lee Scott Red Ranger	Tyrannosaurus	Power Sword	Team leader. Karate black belt who teaches martial arts at the Angel Grove Youth Center. Driven and protective of his team.
 Zack Taylor Black Ranger	Mastodon	Power Axe	Easygoing and funny. Created his own fighting style, Hip-Hop-Kido, which mixes martial arts with dance.
 Billy Cranston Blue Ranger	Triceratops	Power Lance	Genius inventor and the team's tech expert. Starts out as the weakest fighter and gets better by training with Jason.
 Trini Kwan Yellow Ranger	Saber-toothed Tiger	Power Daggers	Calm and wise, the team's heart. Kung fu practitioner, and often the one who translates Billy's technobabble for everyone else.
 Kimberly Hart Pink Ranger	Pterodactyl	Power Bow	Gymnast who brings acrobatics into her fighting. Confident and loyal, and the team's best shot with a ranged weapon.

TEAM ARSENAL

Their gear and Zords at full canon power

- Power Morphers each hold one Power Coin. The team morphs with the canon call of "It's Morphin Time!" followed by each Ranger calling out their Zord's name.
- Power Blaster: all five Power Weapons combine into one cannon, the team's finishing move.
- Dinozords (Tyrannosaurus, Mastodon, Triceratops, Saber-toothed Tiger, Pterodactyl) combine into the Megazord, which has a Tank Mode and a Battle Mode and wields the Power Sword, per the Production Bible's full-scale, practical-first rules.

THE SIXTH RANGER

Tommy Oliver joins the team later, the same way he did in the show.

- Tommy isn't part of the original roster, and adding him early would break canon. He arrives the way the show introduced him: as Rita Repulsa's evil Green Ranger, controlling the Dragonzord with the Dragon Dagger, before the team breaks her spell and he becomes their ally.
- Later changes to the line-up also happen in canon order. The White Ranger, the Thunderzords, and the handoff to Rocky, Adam and Aisha when Jason, Zack and Trini leave for the World Peace Conference all wait until the story reaches them.

CASTING REQUIREMENTS

Requirements for every member of the team

- Real martial artists or athletes who match each character's style: karate for Jason, Hip-Hop-Kido for Zack, kung fu for Trini and gymnastics for Kimberly. Billy's actor has to be able to look untrained at first and get credibly better over time.
- Credible as high schoolers at Angel Grove High, and young enough to sign the multi-picture contracts needed for each character's full run in the saga.
- Ready for the stunt mandate: each actor does their own fights in and out of the suit, plus their own motion capture when needed.

This is a fictional, alternate-history development document created for creative purposes. Character details follow the original Mighty Morphin Power Rangers series. No actors have been cast.